Overcrowding Makes New School Necessary, Says Mokena Board; Plans Referendum on Bond Issue

Increasing enrollments in the Mokena grade school has caused such overcrowding that a new building has become necessary, according to the board of education, and the voters will be asked to approve such a program at an election to be held next month.

In the meantime, the board has also made an agreement with two Chicago bond houses, acting together, to purchase $100,000 of bonds, if and when approved by the voters.

The proposed new school would have six rooms, four of which are to be finished immediately, and would be located on a site which the board hopes to get under option within the next week. Present plans call for use of the new school by the first three grades, with the other five remaining in the building now in use.

The present school is hopelessly overcrowded, it was explained. The first grade is now being taught in quarters in the educational building of the Methodist church, and the combination gymnasium-auditorium is also serving for class work.

Mokena has been growing steadily and all indications point to a continuation of such growth, it was said, which means that the school population will continue to increase.

The number of pupils per teacher now runs as high as 44 in the Mokena school, according to the board, which is almost 20 above the prescribed number for a class. Educators recommend a teacher load of from 25 to 30 pupils, preferably 25, for best educational results.

Trying to squeeze seven over size classes into six rooms is like trying to fit a quart of milk into a pint container, it was explained by the board.

The only alternative to erection of another school would be to operate the present one on a two shift basis, a practice condemned by experts in education and in places where it has been used parents have been strongly opposed to it.

Preliminary plans for the proposed new building are being prepared by Kruegel, Wilkins, Healy and Moore, a Joliet architectural firm, who also are working up cost estimates which will be submitted to the voters at the referendum to be held next month.

At a meeting Tuesday night this week a bond firm appeared before the board in competition for an opportunity to buy the bond issue when it is approved by the voters. The best bid was a joint bid submitted by R. F. Camden & Co. and Harry J. Wilson & Co., Chicago. The interest rate quoted in this bid was two and three-quarters per cent. The other bids were all above this figure, it was reported, some running as high as three and a half per cent. The other bidders included Ballman and Mann, Barclay Investment Co., Benjamin & Lang, H. C. Speer & Sons Co. and Robert Vick & Co.

The successful bidders will take care of the resolutions and preliminaries to the referendum including the legal work.

Friends Greet Couple on 55th Anniversary

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Meisterling held open house for them in their home Sunday in honor of their 55th wedding anniversary. About 125 friends and relatives called to greet them on this momentous occasion. Mrs. Meisterling was presented a pink carnation corsage, and Mr. Meisterling, a white carnation boutonniere. Mr. and Mrs. Meisterling are both 83 years old and after their marriage they established their home on the farm in Green Garden township, where he was born and where they have lived since. They are both in fairly good health and Mr. Meisterling helps with the chores during busy farming seasons, even though he has the land rented. They have two daughters, Miss Alice at home and Mrs. Fred Weise, Mokena and a son Harold, Peotone; five grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

They received many lovely gifts, cards, flowers and money which added to their enjoyment of the day.

Manhattan Girl Wins Spelling Bee at Frankfort

At the spelling contest for section 7 held in the Frankfort public school Monday night more than 300 persons were present.

There were 17 contestants from schools in Frankfort, New Lenox and Manhattan townships. These 17 contestants were chosen as the result of spell-downs in the various schools. Students were chosen from the 6th, 7th and 8th grades; a winner being allowed for every 50 students or a major half of that amount.

At the Monday contest there were two trial rounds of spelling. After that came the real McCoy in which Marjorie Ardaugh of the Manhattan public school came out the winner, with Janet Louise Lord, of St. Jude's parochial school, New Lenox, the alternate. Both are eighth grade students.

The spelling contest started at 7:15 and ended at 8:45 during which time there were 14 rounds of words given. Out of a list of 202 words, 15 remained when the winner was declared. Eunice Harra pronounced the words; Dr. Ralph Wright and Miss Jane Gilgolly, both of Lincoln-Way high school were judges; Robert R. VanRheeden, timer and Miss Viola Lankenau, manager.

Marjorie Ardaugh will join the other 15 winners of spell-downs in the county for the final contest to be held in the Pershing public school in Joliet Saturday, March 24 starting at 10 a.m.

Frankfort Legion Auxiliary Egg Hunt Set for March 31

At the meeting of the American Legion auxiliary at Frankfort March 8, plans were completed for the annual Easter egg hunt.

It will be held Saturday morning, March 31 starting at 10:30 for the small children the place to be announced next week, as well as the hour for the hunt for the second group. In case of rain the hunt will be held Easter Monday. All members are being asked to color a dozen eggs and bring them to the home of Mrs. Ralph Nieland or Mrs. Lloyd Lühring by Thursday evening, March 29 or Friday morning the 30th. Tray favors were made for the patients at the Veteran's hospital at Anna, Ill., with Mrs. Virginia Osmus and Mrs. June Nieland serving on that committee.

Samuel Morse, the inventor, was also a portrait painter.

L-W Band Busy Rehearsing for Annual Contests

Members of the Lincoln-Way high school band are busy now with rehearsals preparatory to the annual contests.

Lincoln-Way is to play in the district band contest that is to be held at Reavis high school April 7.

The solo and ensemble contests are to be held March 24 at Oak Lawn.

In connection with the district band contest the Lincoln-Way director, Robert C. Taylor, has announced the selections to be played.

The "Gypsy Love Song" will be the Lincoln-Way bands' "warm-up" number, with an arrangement by Harold L. Walters paraphrasing the original by Victor Herbert of "The Fortune Teller."

The band will then play two overtures, "Overture Eroica," by Joseph Skornicka, based on themes from Beethoven's Third Symphony, and the "Barber of Seville Overture," as arranged by J. S. Zamecnik.

The band is larger this year than last and also has gained experience. The members are confident they can better last year's "Excellent" rating and move on to the state contest.

Fifteen soloists and seven ensembles have been entered by Director Taylor in the contest at Oak Lawn on March 24.

B-flat clarinet solos will be played by James Warning and Roland Jedlick; Diane Batson is to play an oboe solo and Paul Schuh will play the flute. Rudy Guszik is to give a piano solo and one on the bassoon.

Ron Steinberg, alto and James Stauffenberg, baritone, will represent the saxophone section in the solo contest. Other soloists to appear will be Larry Phifer and Charles Hammond, baritones; Everett Long, cornet; David McGuire, piano; LaVerne Becker and William McCormick, snare drums.

and the victory dinner. Dates for these events have not yet been confirmed.

The Rev. Ben F. Day, pastor of the Frankfort church, emphasized that the Wells director acts only as an organizer and resource person. All solicitation is done by the local members of the Methodist congregation and constituency. Carefully planned training sessions are a vital part of the canvass program.

In addition to the building fund pledges which will extend over 150 weeks, pledges for the regular church budget also will be received during the canvass.

The new church will be located immediately east of the village on the south side of Sauk Trail. The site is presently owned by Albert Krusemark of Frankfort. Construction is expected to begin early in the summer, the Rev. Mr. Day said.

Paper to Carry Column Dealing With Investments

A new column begins today on another page in this issue as a service to readers interested in business and investments.

It is written by Maurice P. Angland, a resident of Mokena, who is well qualified for such a task.

After graduating from college Mr. Angland entered the American Consular service, where he was stationed at Stockholm, Sweden, with the American Consulate General, where his duties were concerned with commercial research for American business firms.

On his return to the United States he joined the investment affiliate of Chase National Bank of New York. Later he had his own investment firm at Minneapolis and recently joined the staff of H. Henz & Co., one of the oldest of the New York stock exchange firms, at its Chicago office.

Some of the officers of the society were going over back records this week and were surprised to learn the sale had covered that many years, although they knew it was of long duration. It will be held this year in the Cooper & Hostert garage starting at 2 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Sandor Juhas of Mokena Observe Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Sandor Juhas, who moved to Mokena three years ago when they purchased a home and acreage at 189 N. Wolf road, were pleasantly surprised a few weeks ago when their children planned a celebration for their 50 wedding anniversary. The celebration was held in a hall in Chicago, and was attended by over 100 persons.

Mr. Juhas, 71, and his wife Mary, 69, lived in Chicago for 60 years. He was an inspector at the Helene Curtis Industries for 40 years. Prior to that he operated an auto paint shop and salesroom at 54th and Western for 12 years and for 18 years before that he worked for the Automatic Electric Co. When he retired they bought the home at Mokena where they are enjoying themselves, he raising chickens and rabbits and Mrs. Juhas growing African violets and crocheting.

They have two daughters, Mrs. Charles Musil and Mrs. Frank Novak, a son, John, six grandchildren and a great grandchild, all living in Chicago.

The Mokena village board has hired Robert Hamilton, of Joliet, an independent consulting engineer, to make a study of the sanitation needs of Mokena.

The study will include the location of sanitary sewer mains and a sewage disposal plant.

At the same time the engineer will study the water distribution system and recommend what should be done about completing or extending it.

An estimate of the cost of the various projects would also be forthcoming, it was said.

Mr. Hamilton will determine which methods and which routes can be used to the best advantage of the community. He also will submit to the board the various methods of financing the proposed improvements.

When the study is completed the village board expects to hold a series of public meetings, May or Scarth stated, to acquaint property owners with the facts and give them an opportunity to examine the different ways and methods proposed for building and financing a modern sanitation system for Mokena.

"The property owners themselves will determine whether the costs are reasonable," the mayor said, and went on to offer a word of caution. "Installing an approved sanitary system will increase the value of your property, so beware of promoters who will be eager to purchase your property in advance of this improvement."

"This also applies to holdings in the area adjacent to the village because while we are planning for the village we are not overlooking the possibilities of sewer and water extensions in outside area."

"It is a proven fact that septic tanks using a field drainage in our clay-type soil of low porosity soon saturate it necessitating the relocation of the field. And invariably each new location saturates sooner than the previous one so persons living outside the village will be faced with the problem of building their own sewage disposal plants or connecting with the village system."

"You can readily see," the mayor continued, "that a study of our situation by an independent engineer specializing in sanitary drainage is most important."

It was estimated by Mr. Hamilton that his report would be ready by mid-May.

"One good turn deserves" something better than this. Mrs. Rock, who has been staying with her grandson and keeping house for the Niebrugge family while Skipper was operated on, had an unusual experience the other evening. Mrs. Niebrugge and Mrs. Rock had entered her home in Chicago before realizing the lights burning in one of the upper story bedrooms was not lit by members of the family. They had interrupted a burglary. By the time the police arrived the robbers had fled with quite a sum of Miss Alice Rock's money in whose room they were in the process of looting. The men fled by the rear door and neighbors who were working in their garage across the alley saw two young men come out the back door, climb into a Dodge car and drive away. Nothing was thought of it till the police arrived.

However, Mr. Swisher, naturalist of the Cook County Forest Preserve district, was unavoidably detained and the meeting was adjourned early.

The new Cub Scouts attended their first meeting at the home of Mrs. Yomans in Palos Highlands March 7. The boys wore their required uniform shirts and neckerchiefs to school and on to the meeting. Some of the children were so excited about going that they forgot to take the dues, left boots and lunchboxes at school in their haste to board the school bus and begin a new and interesting experience in their young lives. The bus drops the children at the Palos Highlands bus stop and either the cubmaster or one of their mothers drives them home.

Maurice P. Angland

Almost everyone has some financial goal or several of them — a college education for children and grandchildren, income and capital for retirement etc. How to achieve that goal may offer a problem. The problem has been compounded by the constantly rising price level and depreciation of dollar purchasing power.

It was only a few years ago that the buying of securities for investment was thought of as the province of the very wealthy or the speculator. Today many millions of persons own securities of the great American corporations and are taking part in the economic growth of the country. However, without the aid of a competent broker, few people have the training or facilities to properly select investments.

The very wealthy and large foundations for education, research etc., usually employ investment counsel whose business it is to have trained personnel and research facilities to aid clients in deciding which industries to select for their investments and which firms within those industries offer the best opportunities. They further supervise such investments on a continuous basis. Investment counsel always stresses diversification in a number of industries in order to reap the greatest rewards with the least risk of loss.

Ordinarily only an investor's with a minimum of $100,000 in securities, can afford to employ investment counsel.

The desire for continuous professional investment management by persons of moderate means, caused the creation of investment companies. Groups of persons of moderate means formed themselves into organizations in which they and their friends could pool their investments and retain competent investment counsel to handle the funds. Very shortly thereafter it was realized that there were thousands of other moderate investment accounts which would welcome an opportunity to join in such Mutual Investment ventures. This move was undoubtedly sparked by the fact that economic education became much more general after the first World War and it was realized that there had been a constant erosion of the purchasing power of the dollar thru rising prices and that this had been going on since founding of the country. It became obvious that "fixed" dollar investments such as savings accounts, etc. did not offer protection against this loss of principal.

Mutual Funds are today a very important factor in the general securities markets. More than 1,000,000 investors own these shares with a total market value of almost $8,000,000,000. There are now more than 120 different Mutual Funds registered with and regulated by the government thru the Securities & Exchange Commission. There are Mutual Funds to meet almost any investment needs such as capital growth, current income for day-to-day needs, and a combination of these needs. The records of their investment results are public information. Most can show ten-year records far better than individual invest-tors have been able to achieve alone.

Prices at which Mutual Funds are offered to the public, thru brokers, are based on liquidating value of the securities held by the particular fund on that day. These shares can be sold back to the issuing fund on the basis of the liquidating value of the underlying securities on the day of sale. Most of the metropolitan dailies carry quotations of prices of these shares, on their financial page. They can be used as collateral for bank loans in exactly the same manner as any other stocks or bonds.

Building an estate is made easy with these Mutual Funds, as most of them will accept as little as $250 as an initial investment and they offer periodic investment plans whereby the investor can invest as little as $25 per quarter on a continuous investment plan. However, most of the Mutual Funds also have many individual shareholders whose investment is $100,000 or more.

URGES FAIR SHARE

The responsibility for paying the bill for better roads should be borne proportionally by the users of these roads. It's not fair to saddle the motorists and small truck owners with more than their share. The Chicago Motor club endorses the American Automobile Association's Better Highways Program. This bill proportionally divides the cost of new highways instead of saddling the "little guy" with the burden.

Economical performance is the big reason why Ford's the V-8 leader!

It takes a FORD to squeeze maximum power out of today's gasoline

Prefer a SIX?

Ford is the only manufacturer who gives you a Short Stroke Six in the light-duty field. It's the most modern, most efficient Six because it gives you more horsepower per cubic inch than any other Six. And in a Ford Six you get integral valve guides, free-turn intake and exhaust valves—plus a deep-skirt crankcase for longer, smoother engine operation.

Shown above is the biggest Pickup box in the 1/2-ton field—a new 8-ft. box, available on the Ford Pickup at low extra cost.

Only Ford gives you modern Short Stroke power—V-8 or Six—in every truck! Short Stroke design means up to 53% more power with no increase in engine size

Just one kind of engine can give you all the mileage built into today's gas. And that's a modern Short Stroke engine—the new kind of truck power pioneered by Ford.

Short Stroke engines develop the kind of power that used to be possible only with much bigger engines. And Short Stroke engines do it on less gas! The shorter stroke means less piston travel, which means less friction to waste power and gas, and less wear, too. You get more usable power also—power that works for you at the rear wheels!

New Ford Trucks save you money when you buy! Ford is America's lowest-priced line of V-8 trucks.* And right now your Ford Dealer is offering attractive terms for spring. Call him today and find out what a sweet deal you can get!

Time to Launch War on Dutch Elm Disease

Only a short time is left for the home owner to join the war this season against the dread elm bark beetle, carrier of Dutch elm disease.

Battle lines already have been drawn up by cities and park commissions which will tax spray facilities of tree men to the fullest.

March and April mark the final months for applying an effective spray points out F. R. Lancaster, entomologist and technical adviser of the Davey Tree Expert Co. In these two months, only some ten days to two weeks normally are favorable for spraying. That is to say, days when wind and temperature permit application of dormant DDT spray recommended by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to thwart the beetle carriers of the scourge.

Unless the week end gardener makes his spraying arrangements early, chances are his favorite elms won't get the protection considered an integral part of the control program. General tree maintenance and sanitation, removal and burning of dead, dying and diseased wood round out the control picture - and are measures that can be practiced throughout the year.

One spray a year is effective. Summer applications formerly applied as a matter of routine now are used only when required to satisfy unusual local conditions.

Since most spray equipment is rapidly being tied up by public projects, individual tree owners who have not yet arranged for spraying may soon have difficulty in securing spraying service.

900 Attend 4-H Rally at L-W

Over 900 persons attended the Will county 4-H rally held March 8 in the Lincoln-Way high school gym. There was much interest shown, especially when over 400 boys and girls were on the large floor at one time when they took part in the recreation program, which consisted of the Bunny Hop, the grand march, Virginia reel, Pop Goes the Weasel, Hokey Pokey, Mexican Hat Dance and a polka.

Among the local clubs winning ribbons were: Frankfort-New Lenox, Homer Little Women, Green Garden Go-Getters, Frankfort Honey Bees, and Homer 4-H Ag. Winners for window displays were, New Lenox Cardinals and New Lenox Blue Birds, 5th place and Green Garden Snip 'n Snack club, 6th place.

There will be a 4-H officer training school March 19 in the Willow ave. Presbyterian church in Joliet starting at 7:30 p.m., which each officer is urged to attend.

Pastors Have Until April 16 to File For Social Security

Chicago Girl Tops in State As Homemaker

Illinois' Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow is Marcia Kleve, a 17-year-old red-haired student at Taft high school in Chicago.

Altho she has never taken any homemaking courses in high school, Marcia became interested in the Betty Crocker Homemaker test and received the highest score of any of the 14,839 graduating senior girls in 466 of Illinois' schools.

As a result she will receive a $1,500 educational scholarship to the college of her choice from General Mills, sponsor of this $100,000 homemaking scholarship program which enrolled a quarter million girls in more than 10,000 of the nation's high schools.

She and her school advisor will tour Washington, D.C., colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Philadelphia April 8-12. Miss Kleve will be a candidate for the Betty Crocker American Homemaker of Tomorrow $5,000 scholarship award which will be made at the nationally televised American Table banquet April 12 in Philadelphia.

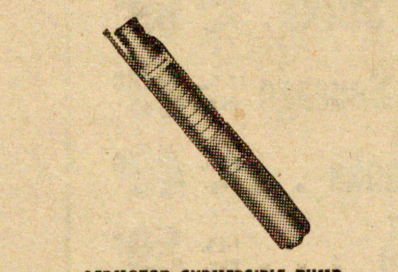

Receiving the second rating in Illinois was Marie Leichtenberg of Ellsworth High School, Ellsworth. She will be awarded a $500 scholarship as Illinois' Award of Honor winner in this homemaking project.

Miss Kleve, who is interested in working in correctional institutions, plans to use her $1,500 scholarship at the University of Wisconsin. "I like adolescents and I think I'd like teaching them," she says, "but working with adolescents in trouble seems more definitely the sort of thing I want to do."

There were several girls in the high schools of the area who took the test.

George Washington had a stepdaughter named Nellie Custis.

credit for 1955 can be allowed only if action is taken now. The certificate is a requirement in addition to the filing of the return," explained Mr. Schafer. "Ministers are the only professional group having the individual option of acquiring coverage," continued Mr. Schafer. "Actually credit for social security purposes is based on the ministers' income tax return, the return, and accompanying Schedule-C, should include the social security number."

A Stitch in Time May Save Design

Geometry students at Lincoln-Way high school have been busy designing and sewing geometric constructions based on angles. Many intricate and colorful figures have been constructed using the basic angle design.

Mrs. Della Hussey, the instructor, believes that such work breaks the routine of formal class, gives the students an adventure in designing, and provides added interest in all class activities.

Students really do enjoy sewing angle designs on cardboard and produce some very complicated ones in three dimensions as well as on flat surfaces. Practically all students were eager to do one or two extra credit designs.

Mrs. Hussey grades the designs on originality of construction, colors used, neatness, and difficulty of stitching.

The main display case at Lincoln-Way is filled with geometric designs stitched in a multitude of different colored thread.

A Nice Course this, --when you can get it

Sixteen Homemaking girls who have been studying costume design and personal improvement visited a hair styling shop at Evergreen Park last week.

Skilled operators cut and styled the hair of six class members who volunteered to act as models: Virginia Evans, Mary Jane Neuzil, Irene Schuldt, Mary Mansell, MaryAnn Miller and Dianne Oranger.

Compliments from classmates and teachers indicated the experience was both a personal and group success. Those not participating as models observed and had the benefit of the suggestions for hair care that was given by the operators.

Registration of Passenger Cars Up in Illinois

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter announced last week that during the 75 working days since Dec. 1, 1955, his office has issued more passenger car license plates than in the entire year of 1953 and has reached 92 per cent of the total for all of last year.

Passenger car registration at the end of February this year was 2,618,777, he reported. For all of 1955 it was 2,580,678, and for all of 1954 it was 2,358,869. This marks the first time in the history of the sales of passenger car plates that so many owners had registered their vehicles by such an early date, Secretary Carpenter said.

If you buy farm seeds with a certified germination of 90 per cent or more, you can plant less to get the stand you want.

Corn Growing Contest Winners

Allen Rasmussen (left) of Frankfort was recently proclaimed county junior corn growing champion at a banquet held at DeKalb in honor of Northern Illinois corn growing champions. His yield of 153.27 bushels per acre was the top yield in Will County in the 1955 Selected Two Acre DeKalb Junior Corn Growing Contest. Fate threw a curve ball at a Van Nuys, California motorist recently. After turning in ninety dollars he had found to the police station, he returned to his parked car to find it ticketed for illegal parking.

We Think of Him

It is true, there are seemingly endless variations in the way the Lord's Supper is observed. Even the name is not always the same, some preferring to call it the Eucharist, others Holy Communion. There are also theologians' debates about it. But plain Christians do unite here even when they may not be quite aware of it. For there are three facts that are always true of this sacred observance—however or wherever it is observed. First, all in the Lord's Supper we think of Christ, it is possible to go even to a Christian church and not hear very much about Jesus Christ on that particular day. (Jesus' own teaching was not always about himself.) But it is not possible to go into a church where the Lord's Supper is being taken by the people, without being reminded directly of Christ. Every Christian has heard the words many times—"my body," "my blood," "in remembrance of me." Here are bread and wine, but every worshipper knows that these are not simple ordinary refreshment. They are symbols and signs of Christ, his actual suffering and death on the cross. Whatever the church may be, its members always think of Christ when they take Communion.

We Find Him

Bremen Frosh-Soph Basketeers
Finish Third in Sandburg Tourney

By Al Rodger
The Bremen Braves frosh-soph cagers were scalped in the Carl Sandburg tournament last week by Joliet in a thrilling overtime contest by the score of 68-64.
Bremen jumped off to a good lead and at the end of the first quarter were on the long end of a 18-10 score and increased their lead at half-time 31-20.
In the third quarter the Joliet five found the range and tied the score at 45 all. In the final quarter the teams traded baskets and at the end of the regulation game the score was knotted at 61 each. The Joliet team went to work in the overtime period, scoring 9 points while Bremen was able to collect only 4 to decide a well-fought game.
The main point getters for Joliet was McCarthy with 20 and Emory with 18. DuBois tallied 14 for Bremen.
Bremen returned to the tourney courts on Thursday only to drop a hard fought game to Blue Island for third place, by a score of 63-55. Bremen outscored Blue Island at the end of the first quarter by the score of 16-11 and held their advantage at half time when the score was 28-23. Blue Island spearheaded by Robinson and Woods led their team to a narrow lead at 42-40 as the 3rd period ended. The Braves fought gamely to overcome this lead, but the superior height of their opponents began to exert itself as they added six more points to their lead as the game ended.

Bremen's Dale Hartwig flipped in 23 points, while Blue Island's Robinson scored 18 and Woods 16.
Purchase of 6,559,350 pounds of pork products last week by the U. S. Department of Agriculture brings the total to 121,385,400 pounds since the government's pork purchase program began last November.

Sandburg Cage Squad
Had Good Season; Won 18 Games and Lost 7

Coach John Jorsted, and all Sandburg basketball fans can justly be proud of the outstanding season's record which was recently completed for 1955-56. This year's team showed much improvement over the record of the 1954-55 season.
The varsity Eagles finished second in the Southwest Suburban conference, just a little below the highly ranked Rich Lee. The Eagles' conference record was 10 wins and 2 losses, and the season's record was 18 wins and 7 losses.
The Eagles got off to an exciting start by winning their first game against Minooka by one point. They finished second in the Crete-Monee Holiday tournament, and won the state district tournament and the 1st place plaque. During this tourney, while playing against Evergreen Park, Don Gee scored his 1,000th point in his basketball career at Orland Park high, and Carl Sandburg high.
By winning the district, the Eagles secured a spot in the regional tournament at Riverside-Brookfield. The Eagles were pitted against the host R-B team in their first game of the regional. The Eagles were beaten by only two points, as R-B scored the winning two points in the overtime period. The score had been tied 48-48 at the end of the 4th quarter. This game climaxed the 1955-56 basketball season for the Eagles in one of the most exciting contests Sandburg students have ever seen.
Don Gee, center, and Ron Weingartner, forward, have been chosen as members of the All-Conference team for the season. Gee also will be leaving Sandburg High with a three year scoring record of 1031 points, while both he and Weingartner have scored 35 points in a single game to share the one game record for Carl Sandburg high. Weingartner will be leaving Carl Sandburg with records of 900 points for two seasons, and 535 points for one year (1955-1956). Gee has done an outstanding job or rebound-

"Five Old Men" Administer Fine Shellacking to Varsity Knights

By Denny Wheeler
The Lincoln-Way varsity finished the 1955-56 season with a disgraceful 63-59 trouncing dealt ever by the Five Old Men, the L-W faculty squad. It was a tough, hard-fought contest all the way which saw the faculty take four time-outs in the final quarter in a desperate attempt to preserve their waning strength against the onrushing varsity snipes.
It must be admitted that the Old Men looked very fine as they ran up an eleven point bulge in the fourth period. However, when their gas tanks ran low, it was the opinion of many that they were lucky to escape with even a small victory.
The faculty squad was paced by Jonas Lashmet who chalked up 22 markers and Joe Kruzich who displayed uncanny accuracy on 30-foot set shots with 19 tallies.

However, young Morrie Wade, junior, took the upper hand over both as he sprayed 24 points thru the buckets.
The score was very close up to the fourth quarter with the faculty on top 18-17 at the quarter and a stalemate existing at half-time at 32 all.
It is rumored that smelling salts and other rejuvenating minerals must have been smuggled into the faculty dressing room at half-time. It may be true, for the Old Men pulled to a 51-44 lead at the close of the third period. They continued to shatter the varsity's defenses in the fourth period and led by 11 points at one time.
The varsity put forth a courageous last-ditch effort and drew within two points. But an over-anxious Red Wade fouled Joe Lashmet and the latter coolly sank two shots. The final count was 63-59 and both teams put on a fine show for the huge throng attending.

With this victory, the faculty extended their winning streak to three straight. They slaughtered the varsity by 35 points last year and rolled over the Lions in January even when outnumbered and outshouted by thirty odd roaring Lions. Their record still stands untarnished.
The morning following the fiasco, your correspondent met Coach Bucovich, faculty star guard, in the halls of Lincoln-Way and inquired as to the state of his health after the tough tussle. The coach stated calmly "Twas nothing. I could play again tonight", and he continued merrily to his next class in his wheelchair.

Two Junior Polo Teams in Training At Reker Stables

The stable that is the home of the "Mounted Jr. Rangers" sponsored by the Cook county forest preserves, will be opening its spring classes for riding on Saturday, March 17. Many children and adults are registered for classes at the Frances Reker school of horsemanship, 17201 Central Avenue, in Tinley Park. There are classes for beginners, intermediates, and advanced students with instruction in English, western, roping, show, polo, and drill team riding.

There are two children's polo teams that have been selected to play on Saturday nights at the Chicago Avenue Armory. One is sponsored by the Town and Country Equestrian association of Chicago and the other by the county's "Mounted Junior Rangers." So far the Junior Rangers are leading in Chicago, but they two more challenges coming up. One will be held in Lake Forest and the other on March 17 at the Chicago Avenue Armory. The Morgan Park Military Academy cavalry is also organizing a polo team and the competition will be strong.

Right-of-way rules cause more arguments than any other driving laws. Remember, if two vehicles reach an uncontrolled intersection simultaneously, the vehicle on the left must yield the right-of-way to the vehicle on the right.

Most of Eagle Matmen to be Back Next Year

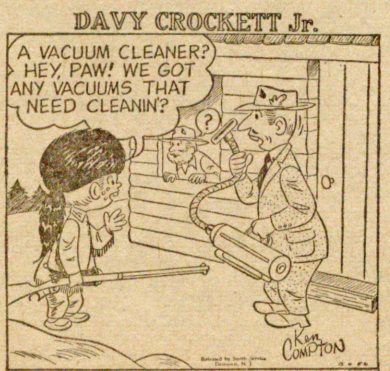

The Sandburg matmen will have all except four varsity wrestlers returning for the 1956-57 season. The four graduating seniors are Warner Semetis, Bob Blaha, Steve Johannes, and Bill Pfersdorf. All of these seniors turned in many fine performances this year, and are sure to be missed by Coach Joe Devine.
Co-captains for the Eagles were Blaha, Johannes, and Pfersdorf. Warner Semetis, another senior, was the only Eagle wrestler to win 1st in the section wrestling meet, and entered the state wrestling tournament at Proviso in Maywood.
The chances of having another successful year next season will depend a great deal on the amount of improvement by the freshmen and sophomores who wrestled as varsity members this year. Eight returning lettermen, and several promising candidates from this year's freshmen-sophomore squad do make things look good for next season, however.

Lettermen who will return next season will be Bill Dumney, Frank Liston, Wayne Borre, Ron Zinn, Al Jaklich, Bob Chatlosh, Roger Chatlosh, and John Janulis. Other promising wrestlers from the reserves and frosh-soph team are Ron Gawlick, Larry Semetis, Bill Brozovich, Jerry Hoiser, Paul Johnson, and David Gibson.

Next year the Eagles will have several new opponents including Oswego, Streator, Ottawa, and Elmwood Park.

Considering everything, the Eagle matmen under the guidance of Coach Devine have done remarkably well, considering that this was only the second year of wrestling for Carl Sandburg high school.

Sandburg finished fourth in the Southwest Suburban conference, fourth in the conference meet, and fifth in the Bremen sectional meet.

Candy Sales Going Good

Ken Case, chairman for the band candy sales, has announced that the public seems to be accepting the sales with much enthusiasm. At the high school on March 2 after the official kick-off assembly, students purchased about 200 candy bars and left the band with about $80 in official I. O. U.'s. The band members on Saturday eagerly covered the four communities, trying to acquaint every one with the sale and its purpose. On the weekend of March 3 and 4 approximately half of the total supply of 2,400 candy bars were sold. Anyone in the community who has not been contacted and who would like to purchase one of these bars to help the band pay for its uniforms may call either Ken Case, the town captains, or any of the band members. The town captains are Jeanette Sievert, Frankfort; Ken Case, Manhattan; Roger Swart, Mokena; and Linda Ruhle, New Lenox.

First at Science Fair

First prize in the high school division of the sixth annual Science Fair at the College of St. Francis, Joliet, went to Rudy Guzik, senior at Lincoln-Way. Rudy, son of Mrs. Rudolph Guzik of Frankfort, completed a project on "Electrophoresis" in conjunction with his physics course under H. Neil Hardy. Judges of the contest were from Argonne National Laboratory at Lemont. They were Dr. Leonard Katzin, senior chemist; Dr. Morton Hamermesh, assistant director of the physics division; Dr. Hayland Young of the information division; and Dr. E. Lawrence Powers, assistant director of the division of the medical and biological research. Prizes were awarded in three divisions, high school, junior college and senior college. Prizes of $15 were given to two first place winners in the junior and senior college divisions and one $20 award for the first place winner in the high school category. Other cash prizes were given second and third place winners.

Rudy Guzik and Jim Cooper attended the American Chemical Society's dinner at the College of St. Francis Friday evening. Four lectures were given dealing with predatory birds, industrial applications of radiation, introduction to metamathematics and Leroy Bitner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Bitner of Manhattan, received honorable mention for his project, "Musical Light," carried out in freshman general science under the direction of Mr. George Burrow.

Science Night

The second annual Science Night, sponsored by the Phi-Chem Association, will be held Friday night March 23, from 7:00 to 9:30 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The annual science night features the individual project work of science students. During the evening the projects will be judged and awards will be given for outstanding achievements.

F. H. A.

Janet Feil and Betty Lichtenwalter were candidates for the national office of president and Bev Lauffer and Betty Lichtenwalter were candidates for section officers.

Jean Ann Meyer, Janet Korsgaard and Carol Larson participated in the Model Show at the Rally. Mrs. Hochberger, section mother, led the invocation at the meeting. Mrs. Lester Lichtenwalter, Mrs. Schewitzer and Mrs. Arthur Rowsell, chapter mothers, along with Miss Lois Williams and Miss Marilyn Douhet were chaperones. Five hundred girls representing twenty schools in the Chicago area were in attendance.

Number Lover's Corner

Answers to last week's problems.
1. DROONS AND MULDRUFFS. Largest possible number of green slackens in a wall-ax, eight. Reasoning: Since a wallax is smaller than a muldruff, and since 20 droons just fill a muldruff, it follows that a wallax cannot hold more than 19 droons. Also since a green slacken is 10 per cent bigger than a droon, a wallax cannot possibly contain more than 18 green slackens. But if all wallaxes are predominantly red throughout, it follows that a wallax cannot be one-half composed of green slackens. That is, it cannot contain 9 green slackens. Thus the largest number it can possibly have is eight.

2. THE LICENSE PLATE. If the plate showed a readable upside-down as well as right-side-up, then all the digits on it were reversible. Only five of the digits can be written so as to be reversible—1, 6, 8, 9, 0. Since all five digits on the plate were different, they must have comprised just these five. The problem then is to arrange the digits to make an integer which is 78,633 less than its inversion. A little trial will discover the number to be 10968. A point to be remembered is that 1, 8, 0 stay the same on inversion, but 6 and 9 exchange identities.

3. Nothing to it? Try again. Now here is a group that may make some mathematician very happy.

1. COWS AND CHICKENS. The same wight who counted sheep by counting the legs and dividing by 4 also kept track of his cows and chickens by counting both the legs and heads. If he counted 78 legs and 35 heads, how many cows and chickens did he own?

2. TARTAGLIA'S RIDDLE. In ancient times, the neophyte in logic was posed such questions as: If half of 5 were 3, what would a third of 10 be?

3. Something swanky: No two of the nine Thingumbobs mentioned below have the same weight.

A swink, a swank, and a swonk together weigh just 150 koldars. A quink, a quank, and a quonk together weigh just 150 koldars. A glink, a glank, and a glonk together weigh just 150 koldars. A swink, a quink, and a glink together weigh just 150 koldars. A swank, a quank, and a glank together weigh just 150 koldars. A swonk, a quonk, and a glonk together weigh just 150 koldars. A swink weighs 60 koldars. A quonk weighs 90 koldars. A glank weighs 30 koldars.

How much does a swank weigh? How much does a quink weigh? How much does a quank weigh? How much does a glink weigh? How much does a glonk weigh? Hint: Draw a diagram of 9 square boxes, to help solve this, by making a sketch with three boxes to each side.

Speed, Alcohol Take Toll on Highways

The number of drivers who were exceeding safe speed limits at the moment they became involved in motor vehicle crashes on Illinois highways increased 120 per cent—from 591 to 1,309—during the first nine months of 1955, as compared with the preceding year. Eighty-eight of the crashes were fatal.

This showing is outlined in an analysis of 19,172 motor vehicle accidents released by the state Division of Highways.

Of the 34,997 drivers involved in these accidents, ten per cent were teen-agers. Eighty-seven accidents of these teen-agers caused deaths. There were 528 drivers who had been drinking prior to crashes—39 of these crashes were fatal.

Shop Course in Agriculture Very Useful for Farmers-to-be

by Ray Bisping
The Lincoln-Way chapter of the Future Farmers of America has a lot of activities during the year to teach the members better farm management methods and how to save time and money.

In the summer the boys exhibit their projects at the fair. In the spring they work in the field, then help harvest the crop in the fall.

During the winter the boys in Future Farmers go into the farm shop to learn how to weld and how to work with wood. They also learn how to make repairs on the buildings and machinery of the farm. Some of the boys are building hog houses, hay racks, feed boxes, and tool cabinets. This work is called "project improvement." Learning to do these things teaches the boys how they may save money on costly repairs. Some of the boys go to the welding part of the farm shop and learn how to run the arc welder and the gas welder. By knowing how to weld, a boy can save money; for example, in putting a new edge on plowshares. He may learn how to fix other things that break on the farm. Some of the boys learn how to use shop tools such as the grinder, drill press, band saw and table saw. By learning how to use these tools wisely, they at the same time can save money and time in the field. All in all these experiences will make them better farmers in the future.

Magazine Carriers Historical Sketch By Frankfort Girl

(The following is an article written by Yvonne Piepenbrink of Frankfort, a student of Lincoln-Way high school, which appeared in the January issue of the Illinois Junior Historian, a magazine sponsored by the Illinois State Historical Society, containing articles written by junior and senior high school students.)

"FRANKFORT THROUGH THE YEARS"

by Yvonne Piepenbrink
Frankfort, Illinois, a village of 700 people, celebrated its hundredth birthday in 1955 with a gala celebration beginning on August 10 with a Centennial Queen's Ball and closing with a spectacular two-hour parade on August 14. A gigantic pageant held nightly depicted the history of Frankfort.

Frankfort is located thirty miles south of Chicago near the Lincoln Highway. First called Chelsea, it received its present name from a resident whose native city was Frankfort-on-the-Main, Germany. As early as 1831 settlers arrived from New England by way of the old Sauk Trail which bisects the village. After the Black Hawk War more permanent settlers came to this area.

Near a forest preserve site on the Lincoln Highway stands an old brick tavern built in 1845, which served as a refuge or "station" on the "underground railroad" for runaway slaves.

In 1855 the Joliet & Northern Indiana Railroad, which later became part of the Michigan Central system, ran a line thru Frankfort. In the same year the town's first general store, which also served as a post office, was established. The building still stands. Within a few years a grain elevator, a hotel, a crude one-room log cabin school, and Methodist, Baptist and Evangelical churches were built.

By 1850 Frankfort was a thriving community with four general stores and other businesses including a drug store, hardware store, agricultural implement factory, meat market, brewery, harness shop, wagon and carriage shops, blacksmith shops, a machine shop, two grain elevators, two taverns and a cheese business. In 1880 the first bank was organized. Hand drawn horse carts comprised the village's fire equipment from 1884 until 1923. Through the years a modern engine and equipment were added.

Frankfort's first physician made many of his calls on horse back, a far cry from the very modern Hedges Clinic which serves Frankfort as well as many surrounding communities today.

The Elgin, Joliet & Eastern railroad was built in 1889. Over this freight route much of the merchandise used in Frankfort is shipped. The Lincoln Highway was built past the village in 1920. Local citizens served as lamplighters until electric power was brought in, in 1913. Gas mains were installed in 1927.

During World Wars I and II, young men and women of the community served our country. An American Legion Post was organized in 1946 and named in honor of two local men.

Today Frankfort boasts of the modern Lincoln-Way Community High school, which also serves three other nearby communities; a fine grade school, bus line, supermarket, grocery store, a bowling alley, a modern clinic a variety of businesses and many active organizations for youth as well as for adults.

It is fun to reminisce with older people of the village and hear stories of the times when debating societies were held at the old schoolhouse; when street cars were chartered to take the school children on picnics; when the first horseless carriage in town caused quite an "uproar"; when the Frankfort Grade School band played at the Chicago World's Fair in 1934; or when the old German Band serenaded all newly married couples and charivaris were a highlight after every wedding.

Drivers should prepare for turns about two or three hundred feet before arriving at an intersection. Make sure your car is in the proper lane for your turn before you get to the corner. You should also signal your intention to turn at least 100 feet before arriving at the place where the turn will take place.

YOUTH SPEAKS

The Tinley Park public school was honored by having, as a visitor, on March 7, the Rev. Moses Rathna Rajah, a Methodist minister from the eastern province of Ceylon. Ceylon is an island about the size of Illinois, lying off the southeast coast of India, having a population of about 6,000,000 people.

The Rev. Mr. Rajah briefed some of the classes on his native country. Ceylon has been an independent republic since 1948, when Great Britain withdrew her control. Ten per cent of the people are Christians while the others are of Buddhist, Hindu, and Moslem faiths. Tea, coffee, rubber, and cocoa are the main exports of Ceylon. Some rice is raised, but not a sufficient amount. Therefore some must be imported. A surprising revelation to the students of Tinley Park, was that while they were attending regular classes the Ceylonese students were in bed sleeping.

Since becoming an independent republic, free education is supplied to all children from the primary grades to college. It is compulsory to attend until the age of 16. At least three languages must be learned by the five year olds when they enter school. These languages include that of the district, the language of Ceylon, and the English language.

The Rev. Mr. Rajah is now studying at the University of Chicago. He will return to Ceylon in July.

Crime Bureau Director Flays Trash 'Comics'

By Lois Higgins
Director of the Illinois Crime Prevention Bureau
PAULIST FEATURE SERVICE
Today we rejoice that the dreaded disease of polio seems not much longer for this world. But while we glory in its demise we find ourselves faced with more insidious crimpers that contaminate the minds of our children,—appealing to their susceptible immaturity, stimulating their curiosity, glamorizing the unbridled satisfaction of animal urges, misguiding their moments of fantasy to nebulous climates where crime, horror and orgy prevail.

The answer, of course, is prevention—24 hour prevention with the tactical procedures under constant study and change to quell the new gimmicks as they appear. Would that Dr. Salk find some similar serum to protect America's boys and girls against the poison-mongers whose parasitic merchandise means emotional chaos, antisocial behavior, dishonor, and ultimate loss of the priceless privileges of citizenship.

Teach Crime
One of the worst of these crimpers is the "crime comic." Wearing cinemascope versions of the formats of the "funnies," the only part of the newspaper most of us were interested in as kids, these germ-laden trash sheets present crime, horror, and violence to the youngster seeking a dime's worth of relaxation and fun.

Of course, crime and horror books represent but a fraction of the comic book industry. Some comic book publishers have never put out the objectionable variety and are not interested in doing so. The cartoonists, whose happy characters give us many a hearty laugh, live the serious content of our daily and Sunday newspapers. But the dangerous "comics," the real crimpers, are the ones which offer short courses in murder, robbery, rape, cannibalism, sadism and virtually every other form of crime, degeneracy, and horror.

Guide Books of Violence
Sometimes these "comics" carefully map out the minutest details of a crime. They glamorize criminality to the end that crime does pay if one is sufficiently ruthless and clever; killing is viewed as a proper means of developing self-confidence.

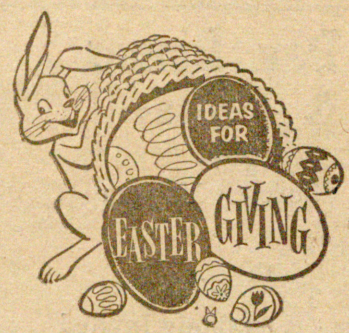

The effect of all this on a child is obvious. Often he is tempted to imitate what he reads; he certainly becomes more inclined to antisocial behavior.

Prevention is the united responsibility of all our citizens. Comic book publishers should be made to keep the high standards we have a right to expect. Parents' and citizens' groups have already exercised a splendid influence in this regard.

Even youngsters themselves have shown a serious-minded willingness to tackle the problem. We oldersters can give these boys and girls, for what it's worth the benefit of our experiences and skills. All these added to their God-given strength, intelligence, fortitude, and dedication will keep our county sound.

Weaning weights of a calf is an important measurement of the mothering ability of a cow, and it also reflects the ability of the bull to transmit growth.

Student Is Honored
Margaret Campbell, freshman at Lincoln-Way Community high school, was selected as Junior Historian of the month of March. Margaret's article "Lewis Karchevall, Will County Pioneer," appeared in the March issue of the ILLINOIS JUNIOR HISTORIAN. Her article tells about the early struggles of the Karchevall family when they settled in New Lenox township in the fall of 1830.

Margaret's composition was written in her social studies class in connection with a unit of study about the local community. The article was corrected and improved upon in her English class.

George Pownall, director of the ILLINOIS JUNIOR HIS-TORIAN, in a recent visit to Lincoln-Way congratulated the students for the high caliber of articles which were submitted to the publication.

Miss Theresa Hartman, and Mrs. Alice Gorman are the English teachers who helped with these papers. Jonas Lashmet and Earl Dieken are the social studies teachers for whom the articles on local history were written.

Social Security
E. H. Whiteside, of the Joliet Social Security administration office met with the fifth hour Junior-Senior Ag and the seventh hour bookkeeping classes on Tuesday, March 13.

After the film "Social Security Taxes and the Farmer" was shown, Mr. Whiteside explained some of the work of the Social Security Administration and gave several interesting and startling facts and figures. Questions from class members were then answered.

In the Ag class more emphasis was given to the role of Social Security in the life of the farmer and farm worker. Students were surprised at the extent of benefits now available to survivors of a farm worker.

Experiences encountered by Mr. Whiteside in his work and a few personal experiences of students with Social Security led to a number of questions and interesting information.

Some of the points of most interest to the students were: Two and one-half million Social Security cards are lost each year. To replace these, duplicate cards, costing twenty-three (23) cents each are issued. The Social Security card is not a good means of identification.

The highest amount payable to the survivors of a person who dies is $200 per month.

There are actually more than 17 ways to prove your age. It is possible for millionaires, who have worked under Social Security, to receive benefits. Benefits are being paid to a few millionaires at present.

Benefits are being paid to people in foreign countries, penal and mental institutions. Pamphlets and application blanks were available to those students who wished them. Several students availed themselves of this opportunity to fill out applications for Social Security numbers.

Mr. Whiteside annually visits quite a number of school in this area. This was a return engagement for Mr. Whiteside who visited Lincoln-Way classes last year.

Home Ec. Teachers
Mrs. Florence Butler, vocational home economics teacher, attended the teacher education conference at the Abraham Lincoln Hotel in Springfield on March 16, 17. This was a biennial meeting sponsored by the Illinois Vocational Homemaking Teachers' Association. Mrs. Butler is serving as co-chairman of the evaluating the adult education program.

Future Business Leaders
During the regular meeting on March 15 of the FBLA two representatives from the navy recruiting substation, Chief Recruiter Burton and Seaman Maxwell, met with the group. A movie entitled "Waves at Work" was shown, after which Chief Recruiter Burton spoke about the requirements for getting into the Waves. A number of girls both from the club and outsiders were on hand for the discussion.

Band Contest
Many strange sounds have been heard coming from the music room during the past week. Band members have been spending most of the spare time practicing on ensembles and solos. The contest will be held on March 24 at Oak Lawn. Fifteen soloists and seven ensembles have been entered. Larry Cullison, Dave McGuire, Rudy Guzik and Mrs. Tryon will serve as accompanists.

Biology Field Trip
By Sheila Bennett
On March 14 three biology classes took a field trip to the museum of Natural History in Chicago. It was snowing lightly when the bus pulled away from school, but it had ceased before we reached Route 45. Although we had a few "gamblers" in the crowd, the majority of the students enjoyed themselves by singing and other forms of amusement. This activity and noise died away only upon request of Mr. Ellermann or upon reaching a railroad crossing.

As we walked into the museum, we put our lunches into a basket and our coats in a locker room. The first exhibit visited was the different races of man from prehistoric to modern times. Then the group, led by Mr. Ellermann, progressed to the exhibits of prehistoric man and his tools, the Egyptian mummies, then to marine animals.

After the lunch period, time was spent in playing hide and seek, visiting the Aquarium, meeting new people and visiting the rest of the Museum. (The latter done very skimpily.) At the stroke of 2 o'clock we settled quietly on the bus, only disturbed by Dave Zechlin tracing and recovering his much-wanted and valuable hat. In spite of the disagreeable conditions of the weather, the students thought the day was very well spent.

The conference music festival will be held at Lincoln-Way on April 20-21. Twenty students from the band will be selected to represent Lincoln-Way in the all-conference band. This number will consist of one flute; one oboe; three B flat clarinets; one alto; one tenor; one baritone; one bassoon; three cornets; one French horn; one baritone; two basses and two percussionists. Student instrumentalists will be selected by Mr. Robert Taylor, by competitive playing, where necessary.

Mr. Paul Yoder, guest conductor of the band on that occasion, is to select the numbers to be played from the following list:

2. Hall of Fame, concert march—Olivadoti
3. Larry Forth, concert march—Moore
4. Them Bases, march—Huffing
5. Aurora, overture—Yoder

Future Teachers
Members of the F.T.A. attended a social meeting at Bloom Township high school on March 8. They were accompanied by Mrs. Della Hussey, Earl Dieken and Mrs. Ed Dunham. A reception group was on hand to greet the twelve L.W. students. They enjoyed a group discussion comparing notes on the progress and activities of their clubs after which the host club took them on a tour of the building.

Business and Finance

By Maurice P. Angland
It is generally agreed that what students of economics and history call the Industrial Revolution, took place about one hundred years ago. Many small industries, particularly textile weaving, were carried on in the homes where members of the family worked at their looms as their abilities and other duties permitted. This "cottage industry" as to manufacture and distribution, was without uniformity of product and distribution was at least equally haphazard. The simple white cotton shirt we demand and accept as normal today, was a luxury. Many men had only one white shirt. It might well have been procured for his wedding and afterwards used on only very special occasions.

The Industrial Revolution brought into being many small industries based on a factory where the use of steam power (later electricity could be used to drive fabricating machinery as it was developed by the fast growing machine tool industry. Our standard of living was carried upward swiftly, with heavy hand labor a thing of the past, and luxury items common place. The speed of this development is hardly realized today as we now quickly accept new textiles and machines.

The present era has been termed a period of scientific revolution. New developments in medicine as well as industry, tumble over each other and investment opportunities are wonderful. Such household words as rayon, were hardly known in the 20's and now, as we now it in stockings and textiles, is only about 15 years old. Textiles, like metals, are now designed and fabricated for specific purposes.

David Cort (former editor of Life and Time) in his "The Big Picture" - published in 1953 Bobbs-Merrill, Inc. page 101-points out the increase in man's powers, by reviewing the rate of inventions and scientific discoveries:

Est. No. of True Scientific Discoveries
Year
Up to 1820 150
Up to 1850 450
Up to 1920 1,450
Up to 1940 10,000
Up to 1950 20,000
It is seen that man's knowledge and available tools, in 30 years, advanced many times the rate of all previously recorded history.

ket needs. Food will be preserved without refrigeration. Use of by-products of atomic science, are already being publicized in the field of medicine. It is impossible to know even a small fraction of uses to which this new science will be devoted. Electronics and chemistry new have even greater fields opened to them. The new industrial science of "automation" will be another very broad field for electronics and precise controls. The tremendous advancement in scientific fields, has made the professional investment analyst even more important than in the past. Most Mutual Fund managements have associated with them, a group of technical advisors, to interpret technical developments as they apply to investment problems. Technical advisors are experts in electronics, industrial processes, automation, nuclear energy, chemistry, physics, metallurgy, economics, etc.

National Tea Sales Boom

Tea Co. today announced that the company sales have continued at an ever greater rate of increase over last year for the second 4-week period of 1956 than reported for the first period of the year.

ing Feb. 25 totaled $46,650,805 for and increase of $3,438,612 over the corresponding period of 1955 when the company reported sales of $43,212,193. This is an increase of 7.96 per cent over a year ago as compared with an increase of 4.58 per cent reported for the first four weeks of this year as compared with the same period of 1955.

National Tea Co. consolidated sales for the year to date thru February 25, totaled $90,824,673, as compared with $85,450,947 for the same eight weeks of 1955. This is an increase of $5,373,726, or 6.29 per cent ahead of the same eight weeks of 1955. In his annual report of shareholders last week, McNamara reported National Tea Co. sales for the year 1955 at $575,584,774, which was an average increase of better than $1 million per week for the entire year, or 10.62 per cent over the previous year.

Spring Flower Show to Open This Sunday

The 44th annual spring and Easter flower show of the Chicago Park district will be held in Garfield and Lincoln park conservatories from Sunday, March 25, thru Sunday, April 8. The conservatories will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. every day to permit both day and evening visitors an opportunity to enjoy the show. There will be no admission charge. This is one of the four major shows staged annually in the conservatories; it ranks foremost among indoor displays of spring flowers. The park district shows attract attention far and wide because of the artistry with which they are arranged and for excellence of the floral material. In Garfield park conservatory the display will be held in the Show House and in a section of the adjoining Palm House. Horticultural hall will be closed for re-building. Easter lilies, symbolic of the season, will be predominant in the exhibit; 1500 plants have been grown at Garfield for the show. Brightly colored tulips and fragrant hyacinths will fill the oval beds in the center of the Show House. Amidst the gay flowers will be a bronze statue of a small child and a lamb coming face to face for the first time. In this show, which features more varieties of flowers than other of the major exhibits, one will find cinerarias in a wide range of brilliant colors; yellow and white Calla lilies; many types of narcissi from the small-flowered Tazetta to the large trumpeted daffodils; yellow Genistas; pink Fairy primroses; old-fashioned bleeding-hearts and yellow and orange nasturtiums. In Lincoln Park conservatory the display will be arranged as an informal garden. A waterfall emptying into a tranquil stream flowing through the conservatory will add a naturalistic touch. Dominating the scene will be a giant cross made of Easter lily plants. Some 1000 lilies have been grown for the show at Lincoln Park. Contrasting material in delicate pastel hues and bold and vivid colors will be found in eye-arresting arrangements of narcissi, hyacinths, tulips and scillas. Spring flowering shrubs, such as spirea, lilacs and forsythia, or Golden-bell, have been forced for display in the Lincoln Park show. White and blue hydrangeas, stocks, genistas, Chinese primroses and begonias. Guide service for school and civic groups may be obtained by making arrangements in advance with either conservatory; telephone Lincoln 9-3006 for Garfield Park conservatory. Attendance at last year's spring flower show at the two conservatories was 359,609.

Illinois to Have 265 Fewer Election Precincts This Year

Illinois will have a total of 9,511 precincts in the 1956 elections a decrease of 265 from the 1954 figure, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter announced today.

Estimated registration is 4,977,000, a decrease of about 310,000, Mr. Carpenter said. The greatest decline in number of precincts was in the city of Chicago, where the total of 3,779 is 373 less than in 1954, Secretary Carpenter said. The remainder of Cook county showed a gain of 44 precincts, making the county's 5,000 total 329 less than two years ago, he said.

Other counties which showed declines are Henderson, 1, and St. Clair, 29.

Counties showing gains are: Adams, 3; Coles, 5; DuPage, 12; Kane, 4; Macon, 16; Madison, 5; Peoria, 1; Rock Island, 4; Sangamon, 1; Wabash, 1; Washington, 2; Will, 24; and Winnebago, 6, Secretary Carpenter said.

If your automobile has a manual choke be sure you know how to use it. The Chicago Motor club says that in order to start a cold motor the gasoline mixture must be richer than normal because gasoline doesn't vaporize well in a cold motor. Your choke reduces the amount of air going into the carburetor and thus increases the amount of fuel. Use your choke when starting your car on cold mornings!

Since 1949 the Southern Illinois University agriculture department teaching and research faculty has grown from two persons to 10.

Christ Suffered

Lesson for March 25, 1956

WHENEVER we ask, Why? about anything that happens, we can mean the question in either one of two ways. Sometimes we mean both. Perhaps we mean to ask, "What were the events that led up to this one? What were the causes or forces back of this event, pushing it, so to speak, out of the Not-Yet into the Now-and-Here?" Or perhaps we mean to ask, "For what purpose did this event take place? If it was a means to an end, what was the end? Did any man, or did God, have a purpose in bringing this event to pass?"

If we ask, Why did Christ suffer? We can mean it in the first way mentioned just now. In that case, the answer is very easy to see, or the answers rather, for there was no one reason why he was crucified. Jesus suffered because Pilate was a coward; if the governor had stood up for what he knew was right, Jesus might have been saved from an unjust sentence. Jesus suffered because the Pharisees were jealous and had found no other way of getting rid of their most troublesome critic. He suffered because he was courageous; if Christ himself had been timid, he could have avoided Calvary simply by keeping quiet and leaving the country.

He Died for Our Sins

All such reasons it is the business of history to ferret out, and it is of some importance to know them. But the other question is not so easy. No historian, as a historian, can see it. Only the eye of faith, (which may indeed belong to historians too) can see the great pattern in which this dreadful event fits, this dreadful event of the death by torture of the best person who ever walked this earth. We could not have guessed it. We need God's Word to tell us what it means. What purpose did God have in mind? What was Jesus' own intention? We know what Jesus said the night before, to his disciples as he gave them the cup: This, he said, was the cup of the New Covenant, "in my blood," poured out "for you." We know what he had said months before (Mark 10:45), that he came to "give his life a ransom for many." Now the Bible tells of a Christ who was totally, from his soul's core, at one with God the Father. What Christ intended, God intended. Christ's death was for a purpose which God had had (as the Bible expresses it) from before the foundation of the world. It was not for his own sake, it was for the sake of his friends. Even more, it was for many who were not his friends. "While we were yet sinners, Christ died for us," Paul says (Rom. 5:8). "He is the expiation for our sins, and not for ours only, but for the sins of the whole world," John says (1 John 2:2).

How Can This Be?

Many people fight shy of this great truth. Sometimes they are slow to believe it just because it seems too much to believe. Here I am, a single human being on a small planet. Would the Creator of the Universe actually go—not to trouble only, but to agony and defeat, for my sake? Well, if a person thinks that way, we must admit to him that it is indeed a miracle, the greatest conceivable. But there is another reason why people are shy about believing that Christ could have died for our sins, for anybody's sin. How can one man's suffering atone for another man's sins? There are two answers to that, which are part of one answer. One is that Christ was not just a man, he was the Godman, "God-made-man." The other is that he identified himself with sinners, with the worst and weakest, the race of man.

His Death Was in Character

Jesus' death at Calvary was not out of line with his life. If there he "took the rap for sinners" as Dr. Hordern puts it, this was not a new and sudden shift in his life-purpose. From the beginning of his service in this world he had been so closely identified with sinning men that he was called in scorn "friend of sinners" and indeed at last executed as a criminal. No wonder Paul can say, "He who knew no sin was made to be sin for us." Yet this remains all over our heads unless we too identify our own selves with him. To say "He is the Savior of the world" is not enough. The final step is to discover, "He is my Savior. For He took my place."

Story of Easter Eggs

THE CUSTOM OF COLORING EGGS IS AT LEAST 5000 YEARS OLD. THE ANCIENT PERSIANS AT THEIR FESTIVE CELEBRATIONS OF THE RETURN OF SPRING (HELD APPROXIMATELY AT THE SAME TIME AS EASTER) GAVE COLORED EGGS TO ONE ANOTHER AS TOKENS OF GOOD WILL.

WHEN TEACHING THE CHRISTIAN FAITH, THE EARLY APOSTLES SAW NO HARM IN ADAPTING THE POPULAR PAGAN CUSTOM OF COLORING EGGS TO THE CHRISTIAN CELEBRATION OF EASTER. THEY THOUGHT THE EGG, WHICH HAD BEEN A SYMBOL OF THE RENEWAL OF LIFE IN SPRING, NOW REPRESENTED THE RESURRECTION.

THE DUTCH SETTLERS OF PENNSYLVANIA AND NEW YORK WERE THE FIRST TO BRING THE CUSTOM OF COLORING EGGS TO AMERICA. EASTER (OR PAAS DAY AS THEY CALLED IT) WAS A TIME FOR GREAT CELEBRATION AND THEY COLORED LARGE QUANTITIES OF PAAS EGGS TO USE IN THEIR FESTIVITIES.

Price Trend on Milk Seems to Point Downward

Milk delivered to the Chicago market by dairy farmers during February received a higher price than a year earlier, but the trend seemed to be downward.

The farm price of 100 pounds of milk testing 3.5 per cent butterfat and delivered to the 70-mile zone was $3.57 in February. A year earlier it was $3.43 or 14 cents lower.

Harry Edwards, director of marketing for the Pure Milk association, said that a comparison between milk production during the past three months and the production for the same months a year previous shows an increase.

"If milk production continues to increase, prices will eventually fall to the level of 1955 or below," Edwards said.

However, an increase in the government price support level or a modification in the regulations of Chicago's Federal Milk Marketing order could help keep prices up, Edwards said.

He predicted that for the next few months, at least, prices would continue above last year. Milk dealers paid $3.06 per hundred or around eight and one-half cents a quart for milk used for bottling or similar purposes.

Dealers increased their daily sales of fluid milk and cream about five per cent over February, 1955.

Edwards said that the increase in milk production on the price.

Those in the military or naval service may vote by absentee ballot in any one of the following manners:

1. By application on a government issued postal card form;

2. By writing direct to the county clerk or board of election commissioners of the county in which they resided prior to the entering of service;

3. Any mother, father, husband, wife, brother or sister may make application for a ballot to be mailed to the one in service.

Registration requirements do not apply to those in military or naval service.
